

Wednesday Earth Wisdom

Wednesday, December 28

Message From Reclaiming Earth Committee – Wednesday Earth Wisdom:

The ending of one year and the beginning of the next New Year tends to be a time of reflection.

This past year has given us much to reflect upon: a global climate pact and the possibilities for good that it brings, marginalized people living with economic and environmental devastation, a deepened awareness of the interrelationship of all of creation, the movement toward the common good and more.

Are any of your reflections something to be included in your New Year resolutions?

Are your reflections to be acted upon in this coming year 2017?

If not, why not?