We are hearing much about the COP21 meeting now happening in Paris. COP stands for Conference of the Parties, referring to the countries that have signed the 1992 United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change.

The COP in Paris is the 21st such conference.

How can you take part in the actions happening in Paris?

To encourage strong US input and leadership, go to www.CatholicCLimateCovenant.org/act/advocate and sign the letter/petition that will be taken directly to Todd Stern, the lead US negotiator in Paris.

A website for action that is sponsored by the USCCB and CRS (US Catholic Bishops and Catholic Relief Services) is www.confrontglobalpoverty.org.

If you want to learn more about what the U.S. bishops are sponsoring, the USCCB also has a page that offers samples of prayer, study and action on behalf of the environment. Visit it here.
